Assistant Professor - Critical Care Medicine

Date Posted: 03/08/2023

Closing Date: 04/15/2023, 11:59PM ET

Req ID: 30150

Job Category: Faculty - Clinical

Faculty/Division: Temerty Faculty of Medicine

Department: Dept of Medicine

Hospital Affiliation: University Health Network (UHN) & Sinai Health System (SHS)

Campus: St. George (Downtown Toronto)

Description:

The Interdepartmental Centre for Critical Care at University Health Network (UHN) and Sinai Health, and the Interdepartmental Division of Critical Care Medicine, University of Toronto are seeking applications for a full-time active staff appointment as an Academic Intensivist. We are accepting applications under the following job descriptions: Clinician-Teacher or Clinician-Educator based at the Toronto General site. The successful candidate must be eligible for an academic appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Interdepartmental Division of Critical Care Medicine, in the Temerty Faculty of Medicine at the University of Toronto. The anticipated start date will be July 1, 2023, or one which is mutually agreed upon.

The successful applicant must hold MD and FRCPC qualifications or equivalent with training in Critical Care Medicine and have or be eligible for licensure in Ontario (CPSO). Formal graduate training in education/teaching or a related field is a requirement. Training and certification in transthoracic critical care echocardiography is also required; transesophageal echocardiography training/certification is an asset. Candidate excellence will be assessed, as relevant to their proposed job description, by graduate training, awards, teaching evaluations, and program development or leadership.

The successful candidate will lead the inter-professional critical care team during clinical weeks on call in the role of attending physician in the Medical-Surgical ICU at Toronto General Hospital. In addition, the candidate will develop an academic body of work aligned with their job description and the UHN Critical Care Program. The successful candidate must also have strong interpersonal and communication skills and thrive within a collaborative and interdisciplinary program involving multiple specialties (medicine, surgery, radiology, etc.).

The Toronto General Hospital MSICU is a quaternary mixed medical and surgical ICU with a major focus on severe respiratory failure and care of patients pre- and post-solid organ transplant. It also serves as regional centre for extra-corporeal life support.

Academic rank, salary and contractual arrangements will be commensurate with the qualifications and experience of the successful candidate. For the successful candidate remuneration will be negotiated and will be highly competitive with the usual income range for an academic intensivist in the province of Ontario. Protected time for academic time will be negotiated in line with qualifications and merit.

Applications will be accepted until April 15, 2023, or until the position is filled.

Interested individuals should send a copy of their curriculum vitae, a letter of interest, and the names and contact information of three referees to Dr. Niall Ferguson, Head of Critical Care, at the address below.

Niall D. Ferguson, MD, FRCPC, MSc
585 University Avenue, 9MaRS 9012
Toronto, ON, M5G 2N2
